
Copyright Statement

Wolf Awareness Inc. is the sole owner of all educational materials associated with the Wolf Awareness Inc. Educational Program Kit. This program and kit are assigned to the registered purchaser named on the previous page. Ownership does not permit the reproduction of any of the materials associated with this program including printed materials, videos, photographs, 35 mm slides or audio tapes. Student materials may be reproduced for use by students involved in the program presented by the kit owner. These reproducible materials are indicated by the presence of the wolf head symbol shown at left.

All other uses are prohibited unless written permission is obtained from Wolf Awareness Inc., the sole owner of these materials.

Where Wolf Awareness Inc. has obtained rights from an individual or organization to include copyright materials, this permission does not extend to third parties who may wish to duplicate the materials. Such permission may only be granted to third parties by the owner of the copyright.

Wolf Awareness Inc.,
G-2 Farms,
R.R. #3,
Ailsa Craig, Ontario
Canada N0M 1A0
(519) 293-3703
E-mail: clupus@publix.empath.on.ca

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

THE TEST

INTRODUCTION

- Rationale
- Integrated Studies
- The Common Curriculum
- Global Course Objectives

PROGRAM

- Outline
- Award System
- Bibliography

LESSON PLANS

ACTIVITIES

INSTRUCTIONAL AID SHEETS (I.A.S.)

COMMUNICATION

SLIDES

INFORMATION/READINGS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In a project such as this one, many individuals contribute to its successful development. Its ultimate success will lie with you, the educators who use it. We wish you well in your work.

We would like to thank those people who gave freely of their time for this program.

To Tom Bates and Pat den Bok for looking after the legalities of incorporation and to Greg Moran, Lou Jensen, Allan Ralph and Bill Chipperfield who gave guidance during the early years.

To Thom McClenaghan who gave me trust, encouragement and a free hand to develop this program in his school during the initial years.

To David Taylor who has donated the use of many of his fine photographs. To John and Mary Theberge and Graham Forbes who introduced us to wolf research and to Durward Allen and Erich Klinghammer who gave both help and encouragement.

To David Ogilvie whose timely suggestions were of great assistance.

To Samurai who started it all and endured the maulings of thousands of school children.

And finally To Valerie whose support and guidance has been paramount in the development of the program. Her talents for writing guidelines and objectives are superb and many of our slides bear witness to her skills with a camera. Without her, none of this would have been possible. Thank you Val, for camping with me in Algonquin in the winter when all your friends went south.

W. H. Halliday

THE TEST

Oh tell me Wolf with shining teeth
And massive jaws that lie beneath,
With pointy nose and glowing eyes
And deep within you, haunting cries.
Would you share some time with me
So from your view the world I'd see?

Deep in snow, the mantled nights
Reflecting dancing Northern Lights.
With you I'd hunt the massive prey
That towers above when put at bay.
Avoid the hooves so sharp and keen
And antlers broad, the weight supreme!

We'd race across the frozen lake
And through the forest try to make
Some headway on this massive beast;
To bring it down, to make a feast.

Mankind's success is tied to thee.
We must preserve you, wild and free.
To fail to keep you and your space
Spells failure for the human race,

W. H. Halliday